

I want to keep the no call list. It is a complete pain to answer the phone and have a telemarketer on the other end. It would be an additional cost to consumer, if this is dropped, to get caller ID on their phones.